

NEWSLETTER

Number 2

from Jessica Lang

Patrick Herrera

Patrick Herrera

Alessio Buccafusca

“The U.S. premiere of Jessica Lang’s Splendid Isolation III was a perfect fit for Dvorovenko’s high theatricality and Beloserkovsky’s passionate physicality. Dvorovenko deftly manipulated a stunning, tent-like skirt, a symbol of both imprisonment and enshrinement. She shed the costume finally, and they prevailed as a couple.”

Laura Bleiberg
The Orange County Register
March 31, 2008

It is very exciting...

... to announce that American Ballet Theatre will be presenting Lang’s critically acclaimed work Splendid Isolation III at the company’s opening night gala at the Metropolitan Opera House on May 19, 2008. Irina Dvorovenko and Maxim Beloserkovsky, principal dancers with ABT will be performing the piece. The couple has been touring the work since September, 2007 performing in major galas around the world. It is a wonderful honor to have this piece included on ABT’s special event.

Other performances that have been happening around the country include the touring of Splendid Isolation II danced by Ailey II and Lang’s newest creation for Richmond Ballet, La Belle Danse, throughout Virginia in April. Her most recent premieres, Beatus Vir, created for Milwaukee Ballet and Prayers for NYU Tisch School for the Arts were well-received by audiences and critics.

Thank you for your continuous support.

More information www.jesslang.com

New York

- May 15 Katia
Excerpt from Matisse as a Sculpture
Ailey Graduation Showcase
The Ailey Citigroup Theater
495 W. 55th St.
7pm
- May 19 Splendid Isolation III
American Ballet Theatre Gala
Metropolitan Opera House, Lincoln Center
Columbus Ave. between 62nd & 65th St.
6:30 pm
Tickets:
Visit the Metropolitan Opera House box office, or call 212.362.6000. Performance only tickets range from $28-$145.
- May 19 Trace
Juilliard Senior Showcase
Peter Jay Sharp Theater
The Juilliard School at Lincoln Center
65th St. between Broadway & Amsterdam Ave.
8pm
Tickets:
Standby admission ONLY; line forms at 7pm